Are Communists Not Seditious ?

Department of Justice's Neglect on Sedition Act of Thirty American Citizens is Revealed

Three and Half Years of "Doing Nothing" To Protect Nation Charged to Agency

(Wash. Times-Herald—Jan. 16)

By Arthur Sears Henning

Whatever the outcome of the pending prosecution of 30 American citizens on charges of conspiring with German officials to establish a Nazi form of government in the United States, the proceedings already have served to expose the neglect of the Department of Justice to enforce the sedition act.

In the indictment of the 30 persons the department says that the sedition law was enacted June 28, 1940, and that the defendants carried on their conspiracy to overthrow the American form of government "continuously thereafter up to and including the date of the filing of this indictment."

Nazi Plotters Unhampered

The department thus admits in effect that for 3½ years it did nothing to protect the nation from the Nazi plotters, although the un-American activities of the German-American Bund were notorious and the prosecution of its leaders and of the Communist Party leaders for plotting to overthrow our form of government had been demanded repeatedly by loyal Americans.

The Communists are still enjoying immunity from prosecution.

In the indictment last week Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, national leader, and August Klapprott, deputy national leader of the Bund, were named for the first time as conspirators to overthrow our form of government.

Kunze became leader of the Bund in 1939 and carried on his activities for three years before he was interfered with by the Department of Justice. Then the department convicted him, not of plotting to overthrow our Government, but of espionage for which he was sentenced to 15 years, and for counselling draft evasion for which he was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. Klapprott also was sent to prison for five years for counselling draft evasion.

The department did not move against the Nazi plotters to subvert our form of government until it became necessary to find some firmer ground for holding to trial 33 persons indicted for sedition in July 1942 and January 1943, the indictments of whom had been invalidated to a crucial degree by the courts.

Some Defendants Omitted

The object of the new prosecution is to link the defendants with the Bund leaders and German officials in a conspiracy to set up the Nazi form of government in this country. The department procured the indictment of the two Bund leaders and six others not previously indicted but was unable to connect 11 of the old defendants with the newly discovered plot and was compelled to omit them from the new indictment.

The old indictments were the product of a collaboration between the department and Eugene Meyer's Washington Post to smear Senators and Representatives whose speeches before Pearl Harbor opposing American intervention in the European war were circulated by obscure antiwar propagandists and crackpot anti-Semites who were indicted on charges of sedition.

One of Meyer's reporters was used by the department as an agent provocateur to entice anti-Semites into committing "overt acts" in the District of Columbia, where they could be indicted and tried instead of in their home communities.

Basis of Indictments

The story unfolded in the new indictments is that the Nazis came into power in Germany in 1933 with a program to "destroy democracy throughout the world" and to establish Nazi or Fascist forms of government in the United States and other countries.

To attain this object the Nazis disseminated propaganda "to impair and undermine the loyalty and morale" of the American Army and Navy, American bundists co-operated with the Nazis and circulated the German anti-Semitic and other propaganda. Because other American propagandists circulated anti-Semitic propaganda the department charges that they engaged in the Nazi conspiracy.

The majority of the defendants deny any connection with the conspiracy.

Political Considerations

That political considerations dominated the action of the department in this, as in numerous other prosecutions under the Roosevelt Administration, is indicated not only by the belated action to scotch the Nazi conspiracy to undermine our form of government but by the inaction against the Communists whose plot against the American Government was well known to the department. Said Attorney General Biddle in ordering the deportation of Harry Bridges in 1941:

"The Communist Party of the U. S. A., from the time of its inception in 1919 to the present time, is an organization that believes in, advises, advocates and teaches the overthrow by force and violence of the Government of the United States."

Moreover, said the Attorney General, the Communist Party now and ever since 1919 has printed, circulated, displayed and published propaganda to have the United States Government overthrown by force and violence.

In the case of the Nazi conspiracy the department will endeavor to establish the close relationship between the Bund and the German government, though the indictment does not charge that the Bund was subsidized by Berlin. The Communist subverters were subsidized by the Soviet Russian government, according to the testimony of Benjamin Gitlow before the Dies Committee in 1939.

Gitlow testified that between 1922 and 1929, when he was secretary of the Communist party, Moscow contributed from $100,000 to $150,000 annually for American Communist party activities. When the Daily Worker, Communist party organ, was started in Chicago in 1924, Moscow subsidized it initially with $35,000.

Moscow furnished William Z. Foster $25,000 to start the Trade Union Educational League in 1922 and an additional $50,000 in 1927 and 1928. Gitlow said that $100,000 was received from Moscow in 1924 for a campaign to wrest control of the United Mine Workers from John L. Lewis. In 1928 Gitlow said he was furnished with $234,050 of Russian funds for a campaign among American miners.

Million Dollars Collected

Gitlow also testified that the Friends of Soviet Russia collected one million dollars in America in 1922 for famine victims in Russia, but the money never reached the Soviet Union. A large part of it, he said, was kept by the American party.

He could not say what subsidies the party has received from Russia since Earl Browder became its secretary, but thought they must be large, for the party expenditures, he estimated, were one and one-quarter millions in 1939 and the party never had been self-supporting.

On April 1, 1940, the Daily Worker registered with the State Department under the act requiring the registration of foreign agents but at the same time denied it was a foreign agent. Late in 1940 the Communist party dissolved connection with the Communist International at Moscow in order to avoid the necessity of registering as a foreign agent.

The party at the same time denounced the registration act as "harmful and destructive of the democratic rights of the people, as designed to coerce the people into submission to the entry of the United States into the imperialist war, and as a part of the sweep of fascization over the capitalistic world."

In the Nazi conspiracy indictment the Department of Justice quotes utterances of the defendants to prove that they sought to undermine the loyalty and morale of the Army and Navy. One of such utterances follows:

"The participation of the United States in the war has been deliberately planned by our leaders with the ultimate aim of promoting our enslavement by British imperialism and international communism."

With this may be compared the following statement made with impunity in 1940 by Earl Browder, head of the Communist party:

"Not a cent, not a gun, not a man for war preparations. No aid to the imperialist war makers in London. Oppose all war loans and credits to the warring imperialist powers. Stop the sale and shipment of munitions and armament. Resist the militarization and armaments program of the Administration and Congress. Combat the imperialist policies and acts of the President."

Assailed "War Plot"

At a Communist rally in New York in May 1940, Browder denounced the President, Wall Street and "economic royalists" as plotters to get the country into war.

Branded as subversive in the indictment of those charged with the Nazi conspiracy is the utterance that "President Roosevelt is reprehensible, a warmonger, liar, unscrupulous, and a pawn of the Jews, Communists and plutocrats."

The department perceived no peril to the loyalty and morale of the Army and Navy in the Communist Daily Worker's characterization of the President as a "warmonger attempting to plunge American youth into the maelstrom of another European conflict merely to save the British Empire".

Utterances Parallel

Paralleling virtually all of the utterances of the propagandists indicted for the Nazi conspiracy are utterances of the Communists during the period they picketed the White House, incited strikes in war industries, and otherwise opposed American intervention in the war.

When Hitler attacked Russia June 21, 1941, the Communists changed their tune, accepting the party line dictated by Moscow. Browder, whom President Roosevelt had liberated from Prison, where he was serving a sentence for passport fraud, suddenly found the imperialist war a holy war.

There is now much speculation on whether Browder's latest move to disband the Communist party was directed by Stalin. It apparently stems from the Teheran conference and the agreements reached there by Stalin, President Roosevelt, and Prime Minister Churchill.

'Moscow' Mass Indictment Upheld by D. C. Court

WASHINGTON— As was expected, Newdeal Justice Eicher ruled Newdeal indictment of 30 Newdeal critics 100% good — "all wool and a yard wide" — and set March 13 for hearing bills of particular motions.

—B—

Elmhurst "Arraigned" In Washington "Sedition" Case

WASHINGTON— Ernest F. Elmhurst of New Dorp, Staten Island, N. Y., appeared in Justice Eicher's Federal District Court for arraignment and "stood mute", challenging the court's jurisdiction.

And thereby hangs a tale; for, although Mr. Elmhurst is under the protection of the Brooklyn Federal District Court, and not removable to a "foreign" jurisdiction without an order of a Federal Judge, U. S. Commissioner Jacob Visel on Friday, the 25th, ordered his removal to Washington and set Tuesday, Feb. 29, as the time for his appearance here, the last of 30 defendants to face "arraignment".

The defendant's friends have "smelt a mouse", and assert that some "fast work" was done by representatives of the U. S. Justice Department at the conclusion of Commissioner Visel's hearing.

Although under $2,500 bail, put up in full cash by a friend and also signed by a bonding company, with the bond a continuing one to run until the trial should be held, the prosecutors insisted upon a new bond, and had it prepared and ready, with the unnoticed agreement that the defendant should appear in Washington on the 29th under pain of the bond's forfeiture.

Elmhurst asked for (but was without) a lawyer, guaranteed to him by the Constitution, and he signed the paper, after being assured that everything was O. K. and he could move for a postponement when he came before the Brooklyn Federal judge.

When on Monday the defendant did appear before Federal Judge Inch, an eminently fair jurist, the prosecution refused to move for a removal order merely pointing to the terms of the bond for appearance. Hence, the judge had nothing to pass upon, and Elmhurst was uncertain whether to go to Washington, or risk forfeiture of $2,500 by remaining in New York.

In Washington before Justice Eicher, Elmhurst's attorney Ira Chase Koehne stressed the point of "protection of the court", immunity from removal without "due process", and denying local jurisdiction. It will be an interesting fight, when attorney Koehne opens up his defense guns.

Elmhurst is the scholarly author of the 1938 Anti-Comunist book, "The World Hoax", named in the indictment of 30 Administration critics, returned on January 3, 1944. He was never a member of the bund; is an American citizen; but was born in Hannover, Germany, and fought four years as a private in the 1914-18 German army.

BOOK REVIEWS

FREE SPEECH IN THE UNITED STATES:

By Zechariah Chafee, Jr.

There certainly never was a time in the history of the nation when we needed free spech more than at present; nor was there ever a time more than at present when we needed such a book as this. It is a masterpiece, and should be in every library. The press of the nation has given it a cordial welcome and acclamation. Certainly every lawyer owes it to himself to own a copy; yes, and every preacher and political leader; and for anyone who is going campaigning during the coming election this is worth its weight in gold.

It is a splendid companion to two we recently reviewed, Challenge to Freedom, and Between Tears and Laughter, both of which are still going strong; but this is even a more masterly work than those two. Certainly every Congressman and law-maker should have a copy on his desk. It is not a book just for today, it is a book that will endure as long as the nation endures, and that is saying a lot. For those recently indicted for the third time for sedition, there is much ammunition in Chapter 12. I cannot find sufficient words to express my appreciation of the value of this volume. The price may prevent some of you from getting it, but remember it is a reference book for as long as you live, on matters pertaining to your nation. 634 pages, attractively cloth bound, gold letters, and sells for $4.00.—America Speaks.

Cardinal Defends Eire Neutrality

BELFAST— In an unusually outspoken pastoral letter Sunday in all Catholic churches in the diocese, Joseph, Cardinal MaCrory Archbishop of Armagh, firmly defended Eire's neutrality, saying she actually deserved credit for not applying herself with the axis nations.

"Some people in North Ireland suggest, if not demand, vindictive treatment of Eire because of her neutrality," the archbishop wrote. "I wonder what those people want Eire to do.

"For centuries England has treated Ireland unjustly, even cruel, and I remind both Britain and the United States, both professedly fighting for the freedom of small nations, that Ireland has a right to her untrammeled freedom."

Declared a legal newspaper of general circulation for the County and City of San Diego, in California, by Superior Court Order, January 15, 1932.
Entered as second class matter March 27, 1931, at the postoffice of San Diego, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A Republican newspaper, standing for a clean sweep of the Augean stables. Fearless fighter for a truthful, just, vigilant and tolerant nationalism. Lover of the Constitution and the Founding Fathers. Defender of free speech and free press, as the foundation stones of the republican form of government. Opponent of injustice, tyranny and oppression, and of all "isms" except Americanism.

Poll Shows Americans Demand Free Press

DENVER— Complete peacetime freedom of the press, even to "criticize our form of government", is approved by 66 percent of the American people, it was shown in a report by the national opinion research center at Denver university.

The survey, made on a nationwide "sampling basis", showed only 30 percent of the persons opposed to the newspapers' right to criticize, while 4 percent held no opinion.

The N. O. R. C. said college graduates voted 88 percent in favor of freedom of the press as did 72 percent of the high school graduates polled. Only 46 percent of those who never had attended high school would permit newspaper criticism of American institutions.

SEX DISEASE GAINS REPORTED

SACRAMENTO— More cases of venereal diseases in California now are occuring among young women between the ages of 15 and 19—but the greatest increase is in the 20-to-24 age group.

This is the statement of Dr. Wilton L. Halverson, state director of public health, who reports to Gov. Warren that "every possible action must be taken to prevent further increases in venereal diseases, and the increases must not be overlooked."

Robert Noble Appeals for Legal Aid

Letter to Sister: Martha Govern,
2474 Montrose Ave., Montrose, Calif.

Legal letter to Sister, Re: Counsel,
200-19th st., S. E., Washington, 3, D. C.
February 19, 1944

Dear Martha:

How I wish in some magic way you and all your friends could know of all the mental picturs that have flitted, roamed, haunted and crashed through my mind this week. What I am trying to say is; I do wish you could know something of this experience. And yet I really don't mean it all—for I wouldn't want anybody to suffer so. And its all because of feeling so impotent in this crushing circumstance. It is most difficult to know which way to turn—although an avenue or two do offer some hope.

The restrictions placed around us are very great and make it almost impossible to move. And when certain demanded rights are grudingly somewhat admitted,—delay, neglect, stall after stall, all the way to outright written refusal of means to carry out such "rights" follow.

In all of this I refer only to the right to arrange for proper legal counsel and constitutional methods of defense.

I have been refused the right to write Heber Votaw; my letter to him was not mailed here in Takowa Pk and several other people, altho other letters have been sent thru, and I am still hopeful for favorable results. I thot Elder Votaw might have a suggestion that would be helpful in the matter of counsel and defense. It might be that you would care to write him in my behalf. His advice ought to be helpful at this time. Should you think it well to write him—please tell him I would very much like to see him. Permission can hardly be refused him if I want to see him and the visit will be concerned with the matter of arranging proper defense counsel. Perhaps he really can be of great help. You understand I am at the D. C. Jail. Yes, the more I think of it, it seems a fine idea for you to write him if you don't mind. This is the time a fellow needs a friend, and he really could be one in this situation. The problem I face is not at all insurmountable if a sincere straight forward person or two came forward at this time.

You of course understand that there is not the slightest thing to any idea of my having conspired with anybody against the interests of this country. I am in no sense guilty of any act in violation of any federal law charged in this indictment. The whole indictment is utterly fantastic. But you know how it was in our Los Angeles trial and here the conditions appear to be worse. However, some straightforward unafraid assistance can reverse the entire picture. I have nothing to hide—but fearfully need help to be able to present the simple and truthful facts.

Again, I do feel Cousin Heber might be willing to assist in seeing that I get something of a fair chance in the trial here.

Won't you write him, darling—remember Surgeon Gen. Blue?

I am innocent—and what a tragedy another long prison term would be—it would just about mean my life. The others are hard enough, but I've tried to reconcile myself to being in until the war is over. But should I spend all the best years of my life in prison—for trying to help my country—Write him air mail—Love and best wishes to all kind friends for all their wonderful help and understanding.

And love to you my darling sister,
Your brother, ROBERT NOBLE.

Editor's Note: The American Civil Liberties Union is collecting funds all year 'round to protect the civil rights of defendants when they are Communists, while the rights of other defendants are ignored by the Washington and New York branch of the ACLU. Noble is entitled to a fair trial and to effective defense, according to the U. S. Constitution that guarantees him due process of law, which means effective legal defense. The ACLU is not supposed to actually defend every defendant in political trials, as the one now in process in the national capital, but the ACLU IS duty bound by its own publicly proclaimed aims to insure effective defense where civil rights are involved. They know perfectly well what I mean, but are playing politics at present. The court himself is charged by law to insure effective defense to every defendant. Lack of such defense is reversible error.

We hope that Noble succeeds and insists that the records show he was deprived of effective defense by the court's own rulings. Even though the court orders him again and again to shut up and sit down, Noble has the constitutional right to enter objections and protests, and take exceptions which MUST be noted in the record. We hope the Newspapers in Washington show sufficient American spirit to report the manner of the court that deprives defendants of effective defense and due process of law. Let them be proven guilty in a fair trial but not railroaded after Nazi and Soviet fashion!

Those Inconsistencies ;

Dear Sirs:

To whom would you ascribe the following quotation?

"Those who met Herr Hitler face to face in public business, or on social terms, have found a highly competent, cool, well-informed functionary, with an agreeable manner and a charming smile.

"One may dislike Hitler's system yet admire his patriotic achievement. If our country were defeated, I hope we should find a champion as indomitable, to restore our courage and lead us back to our place among nations.

"The Fuehrer, the great leader of his country (Germany) who has raised it so high and I admire him for that."

These manifestations of respect and admiration come from none other than the co-author of the Atlantic Charter, Winston Churchill, in his books, Step By Step and Great Contempories.

Does it make sense that a man who recognized Hitler as a "champion" would be interested in spreading the Four Freedoms around the world? It explains many of the inconsistencies which have puzzled conscientious Americans. For instance, the failure of the United States ond British government to protest the Jewish persecutions or to sever diplomatic and trade relations with a regime so hostile to democracy.

(It must be remembered that not only did we continue to trade with Germany up until Poland was invaded, but we furnished much of the steel, oil and gasoline for the Nazi war machine to say nothing of Japan's.)

And since the war, there are: the Darlan-Giraud deals; the kings, queens, and dictators who are being held in reserve for future use in Europe; our President's promise to restore France's empire: Mr. Churchill's frank admission that Britain means to hold her own; the failure of both gentlemen to offer an honorable peace to the Italian people over the heads of Badoglio; the continued indifference to the suffering in Europe caused by the food-blockade.

All these indignities are the more easily understood when we realize that it is not dictatorship as such our government dislikes.

PEACE ON EARTH WILL COME AGAIN

By Ellis O. Jones

Though the world with strife be torn
Though the west obscure the morn,
Heap your courage mountain high
Still the sun is in the sky.

Though the battle cry be loud
Though the drums bemuse the crowd,
Love serenely carries on
Triumphant when the night is gone
What though millions march to war
Nor ask what they are fighting for
What though mighty hosts defend
Love will conquer in the end.

Stifled by a great amen
Hate will pass away and then
Peace on earth—good will toward men
Will come again—will come again.

Modern Ku Kluxism

On another page of this week's isue of THE TABLET, is reprinted a report secretily spread among key people and others by the American Jewish Congress, which represents a large section of our Jewish fellow-citizens. It is not to be confused with the American Jewish Committee headed by former Judge Proskauer, or other societies which are not filled with hate and which aim to promote good will.

The average reader going over the report will probably reach these concclusions:

1. We have in our midst an espionage system, with its agents, spies, secret reports and plan of campaign, quite akin to the spy system of enemy Governments.

2. The espionage machine has national ramifications and seems to protrude everywhere. Moreover, it brags of its official power, its influence and its ability to exert pressure.

3. Its entire un-American set-up and tactics are revealed in the method it utilizes to destroy the civil rights of individuals. Although the Bill of Rights and common decency demand that no one be tried without an opportunity to face his or her accusers, this group in sniper fashion indicts and convicts many people like a Gestapo unit, and unknown to the one accused, carries on a ruthless campaign to destroy him or her. The system supplies the information to its agents, stooges, provocateurs all over, including certain radio speakers and columnists who then assault the victim. It works in the dark and the object of its dastardly imported poison is even denied a fair hearing in the traditional American manner. It is about as honorable as dropping a brick from the roof on a passerby below, the innocent victim never knowing who struck him or why.—The Tablet, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Editor's Note: The secret report of the American Jewish Congress appeared in the previous week's issue of this paper.

MY ADVENTURES IN AMERICA

By C. Leon de Aryan

KARMA & Re-Incarnation

My very dear and Good Friend Kosti:

Your 2 copies of the current issue just arrived, . . . it is fully up to your high standard.

Your story of your love experience with M. F. is very interesting; I think to the majority, also. You certainly have my complete sympathy, as I have passed through two or three similar experiences. There is a saying, "It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all", as love is always an enrichment and beautification of the human soul.

Judging from my own experience and the advice of others, I fear you were too precipitous. Only a very rich man (in money) can rush a young woman off her feet, if she is attractive and he is in middle life. That has been my mistake; like you I was open, honest and frank, and let her know too quickly exactly how I felt,—a great mistake. It is far better to make love to them with one's eyes and actions, at first; let the words come later, when she SHOWS that she will receive them favorably. Keep 'em guessing, in the beginning. That independence turns them into the hunter, and most women are "hunters" at heart. If she feels she "has you", before she really has been made to "want you", she will, or is liable, to lose interest and turn you down . . . . The great psychologists are agreed on this.

You are one of the most brilliant and best of men I have ever known. You are highly educated, and your "soul" is as "one in a million". But, in no sense discreditable to you, you have a slight "foreign" accent in your speech. It takes such a person from three to five times as long to cause a woman to "forget" that barrier of strangeness in speech and be ready to accept such a one as her very own. This is an unfortunate handicap, but it is a real one, I believe. . . . In the early stages, if the "souls" are congenial, the person of foreign birth can build up the "ego" and the important "feeling of importance" on the part of the "native", by asking her to help you eliminate your accent; to be your teacher; in teaching you, she discovers, gradually, what a grand person you really are. IT TAKES TIME . . . PRECIPITATION IS DANGEROUS.

Another thought: IS "M. F." HER REAL NAME? If so, your giving her publicity may distress her dreadfully, and do much to alienate you. Moreover, it lets your enemies know whom you love, and nothing would give them greater pleasure (sadistic) than to use every tactic to DISCREDIT YOU ! ! ! I trust that you did not use her real name, but a nom-de-plume. That might have helped you with her, and leave the bridges up for a return to the old intimacy . . . If "M. F" is her real monicker, I fear you will have to suppress your feelings, write no more about her, and use a little indifference, if you hope to build back the fallen bridges that now separate you.

There may be something in the "re-incarnation". It's a beautiful & comforting thought anyway. I think Henry Ford is a believer. However, the scientists, as a rule, deny re-incarnation, and agree that all animal life, from the highest man to the lowest mammal, acquires in infancy a "fixation" for the mother type, and tends throughout life to prefer as a mate someone who looks like a person (usually the mother) whom he or she first learned to love . . . I'll wager that your Polish mother was a blonde; hence the blonde "fixation"; one always is looking for the maternal image (if a male) . . . Too, this tends to keep the different species distinct; prevents too wide crossing, which would eliminate the species.

Although you are "brown-eyed", if your mother's eyes were blue, one-half of your sex cells will be blue-eyed; and mated with a blue-eyed woman, half of your children would tend to be blue-eyed, receiving a blue cell from each side of the house . . . . Always where one eye-cell is blue and the other brown, the product is brown; but practically all brown-eyed persons of the Aryan breed carry some blue cells from the racial stock . . . This according to the proven scientific law of Gregor Mendel. If you mate with a brown-eyed woman of similar antecedents, one-fourth of your offspring would have blue-eyes. (Mendel's law) . . . That is why I wrote that for "Aryans" to mix with Mongolians would mean the elimination of the blue-eyed stock and indeed of the white type.

I am convinced that every child carries some traits of physique and mind from EACH side of the house. From your Polish mother, you doubtless have many fine Polish traits; perhaps even your tallness. From the Greek side, some of the genius of the great Greeks of antiquity, of whom Lord Milne of England said, "to one small people it was given to create the principle of progress. Except the blind forces of nature, —nothing moves in this world that is not Greek in its origin".

Now, don't let that love affair get you down. You have a great mission to perform, even if you should remain single. And, who knows, after you win out in a big way, you may win HER, or someone else equally as worthy.

With true sympathy and very best wishes, always, Your faithful friend, — — —

QUEEN ISIS EATS FENCH FRIED POTATOES

My dear — — —

Thanks for your letter. In reply I wrote already a book, but each time I tore up the pages, in fact I wrote several books replying to you, but they were not good enough. Even this is not good enough, but I cannot put off replying, so I am letting you read it.

Marion Fay is her real name. She came from Hollywood. She is terribly hurt because I gave it out, but she is no more hurt than she hurt me when she publicized our troubles in the ups and downs of adjustment. I froze with dread when she turned against me publicly, just as I had been amazed with happy surprise when she first told me that she would not love me clandestinely but express her affection by taking in the whole world as her witness. It was unconventional the way we carried on in public, but I was game. When it is true and natural, why should people not be affectionate openly, which is quite a distinction from brazenly, for brazeness denotes audacious evil, while openess means frank sweetness. And, in the latter spirit, I was just delighted with her conduct, while it lasted . . .

Yes, my mother was blue-eyed and red-headed. I suppose that is why the mother of my two boys is also red-headed and blue-eyed, according to your explanation of attraction. Except my mother lacked something that is very vital to my life; the children's mother lacked it also, though she was quite a step in advance of my mother, and this lack resulted in our separation: a daring to venture forth into the Unknown, to win the Holy Grail. This is the only way I can say it, to come as near as human language can express it. This daring is conditio sine qua non, and, as you see, Marion displayed that very thing right off the bat, and that's why I think so much of her.

My mother was afraid of this un-suppressable yearning and locked me up in an asylum to "cure me" from it; had she been wise she would have joined hands with me and learned from me, but she did not trust it.

My children's mother equally did not distinguish when that divine urge pushed me on, and when I was simply being foolish, so she braced herself with all her weight against being carried off into the Unknown.

But Marion mounted Pegasus and took a flight with me and even outflew me. Then she decided I was too much of the earth, earthly, and got scared in reverse from the other two. All three are wrong.

I have made a systematic study and am no longer carried away wildly and ignorantly. My Pegasus has been harnessed to the Lord's chariot and I am "in His service".

Marion failed to catch on, but it is quite possible she will yet. In the meantime in the language of the world, our love affair has gone on the blink. But it is none of the usual affairs mortals carry on, and that is why I have written books and destroyed them all, but now I decided to let you read it, as poorly as I am able to describe such an unusual, but marvelous occurrence.

The SCRIPT of DESTINY

Suppose the Lord writes the script for a wonderful drama and it is gossipped about among the theatre folks, and troupers, old and young, wonder who will play the male and female star parts, because somebody will have to.

How do you figure the final decision and selection will be made?

I am speaking in riddles, but I am telling the truth.

I have been trained for a certain part in this drama, but who will play opposite me? Several have tried but they have not the daring necessary to success; they have not the tenacity; they have not the LONGING that will carry them through all vicissitudes and keep their eyes glued on the director of the play, instead of looking at the various dangers confronting them; because their part is mighty dangerous and their lives and souls are in jeopardy all the time. When they are not trained to look at the director and follow his instructions, but . . . miss the cue and try on their own, they are lost.

And that is how the selection is made. Tryouts are made. Nothing else will do. Under conditions very similar, actually copied, as the final drama would be enacted, the tryouts proceed.

And so Marion and myself were having our tryout. Suddenly she threw up her hands, froze, and no prompting could induce her to regain her self-composure. She blames me, I put the scare into her, I made the mis-step; so she ran back to her sailor boy for safety and self-assurance. Of course, she has a rest period to recover. If she dares not try again, she will have dropped out.

Marion is young, very young, ignorant and callous with the callousness of youth. She does not respect maturity, she considers it weakness. She is snobbish, imperious and brutal. Vain to the nth degree and has subordinated her best qualities to her vanity. She has no idea of actual conditions in this world. She reads no newspapers, except C. S. literature. She imagines things and in her ignorance substitutes her fancy for the actuality. They don't jibe at all, but she is too conceited to realize it, she blames me.

When she met me, I had returned from Jail where I had been so upset, I had lost my sense of discrimination, and even of smell and taste. Unknowingly, I ate vegetables cooked in meat and bacon.

Later on I discovered it, but it was too late. Naturally, you, who eat meat, do not comprehend what I am talking about. The nearest I can describe it to you is that to me meat is a drug, a narcotic, it makes me drunk, it disturbs my equilibrium, I don't act like myself . . . .

It takes a long time to gain one's balance again.

Marion met me in that convalescent condition and RIDICULED me. She did not understand what jail meant, what it had done to me; she DEMANDED the impossible and threw me over when it did not come forth. In plain English, she is an ignorant brat.

But you see, she knows it in her heart that she wants that certain part in the drama where the Lord's script calls for specific qualifications. And she knows that I am the actor for the male part. This is the thing you will have to puzzle out for yourself.

In the meantime, because Marion hid away, but still wants that part in the play, she has worked herself into a condition where SHE EATS MEAT, unbeknown to herself, so that the same crazying and poisonous effects will become manifest in her system. That is her Karma, her penalty, and her lesson. At the Vegetarian Cafeteria she turned her nose up at butter and noticing that, because it is a condition describing my partner in the play. I spoke to her and that is how we met. We must not use ANY ANIMAL STUFF whatever for food, if we are to come out alive from the ordeal into which we are thrown when we shall play in the ACTUAL DRAMA.

So you see, when Marion noticed some of the effects in me from the meat diet in the jail, she ran and refused to speak to me again. Of course, according to the rules, I was tainted. But Marion missed her cue. In our play she is supposed to drop everything and nurse me back to normalcy because I acquired the taint in the service, in line of duty, having been shocked into insensibility from which I partly suffer yet.

Now Marion is eating French fried potatoes with her salad in the hotel's dining room, and I went to the chef who knows me, and he showed me the kettle with rendings from meat. "This is where we first throw the potatoes in and fry them", said the chef. "When they are almost done we finish them up in this larger kettle where we brown them nicely in vegetable shortening".

You see, you don't know the difference. But Marion does. A vegetarian who refuses butter but eats pork . . .

Marion has been too damn smart, in place of honest. She thinks she is the omniscient Queen Isis of Egypt and said that all readers of THE BROOM were morons, that's why we are opposed to Roosevelt's dictatorship. "He is divinely inspired".

And so Marion had to be taken down a peg: Queen Isis eats pork.

Please, make no mistake. I am not in the least interested to "win Marion". My eyes are riveted on the director, not on her, and she resented it.

Certainly, had I been rich she might have gobbled me by now. She wants luxury, but I told her that we, "in the service", must earn every single thing we get and when she will earn it, she will get all the luxury she deserves. In financial matters we look to the director for instructions and support, not worrying at all.

Really, I am quite interested to see the outcome.

With love, and thanks for your friendly advice, sincerely, KOSTI.

Editor's Note: KARMA is an Eastern Aryan word meaning HARVEST. "what you sow that also shall you reap". This word is used in all Eastern philosophies and schools of Thought. For example, Woodrow Wilson promised the Germans the 14 points; they took him at his word and surrendered. Then were cheated out of it at Versailles. Woodrow Wilson died insane. That was his KARMA. One must not make holy promises and fail to keep them.

According to Sen. Rush Holt, F. D. R. bragged about having broken enough laws, previous to and during World War I, to have been sent to jail for 999 years. Since F. D. R. had taken an oath of office, which naturally he did not keep in that case, something had to result. Some say that his KARMA was Infantile Paralysis and wonder what will be his harvest this time.

Making holy promises is playing with holy fires. Marion promised to serve the Lord, but when she discovered my "real status" and background, she got scared. But the rule says: "Keep your eyes glued on the director, he cues you and tells you what to do so you come out whole". Our director is the Infinite Father, Infinite Love. "God moves in mysterious ways His wonders to perform".

Now our readers will understand why Marion insisted that I love Roosevelt and the Jews. She followed "script", but I did not stop there, I love even the Russians, Japs and Germans. And naturally I love America and keep my oath of allegiance. It never struck home to Marion that I could not possibly be disloyal while following the Master. Or else she imagined I betrayed both, and hence the "public ordeal", that it come out in the open which one of us is true.

Our readers will be interested to know the rules and technique of the "try out". They will find it in Matthew, 10. It gives you a correct idea of the REAL DRAMA to come. And those who imagine that I had no right to publicize Marion are referred to Matthew 18:15-17. Don't forget to study Matthew 10 and especially verses 34-42. It explains why one must choose.

But one must realize that Matthew 6:33 prevails as the only rule for success at the try-out. "Seek ye first - - - -"

As you see, courage is at a premium. And it takes unusual courage to qualify in the face of war-maddened hysteria. Up to now I used to wake up in the middle of the night with that haunting pain in my heart that I had spoiled this child's opportunity. But now she has demonstrated by her own gobbling of bacon grease, that she is at fault, too. She worshipped Roosevelt and the Newdeal and subverted our government, that is the real cause of her failure to qualify.

Marion plunged right into politics, and most viciously at that, when she accused me in the presence of her friends of being "disloyal to our government" because I am anti-Roosevelt and anti-Newdeal. To charge me with crime, just when I am under that very shadow and returned from jail, was the worst she could do to me. Having done it before witnesses, I told her she challenged me to a public duel on the issue. She accepted it, saying she'd hold the whip-hand. Now she cannot complain, she asked for it.

Race Hate Called Socially-Approved Hostility Outlet

CHICAGO— Racial prejudice is one of the few permitted outlets for open hostility in our society, Skudder Mekeel, consultant on race relations to the Julius Rosenwald fund, told the national convention of the American Ortho-Psychiatric association recently.

"In all our other relations we have to be decent and law abiding," he said. "But we can overstep the mark in our relations with the groups against whom prejudice is recognized as normal.

"It is significant that race prejudicec is socially permitted and the individual learns it. He is not born with it. It is loked upon as a normal outlet for mild forms of hostility, fear and superiority."

"A pernicious theory seems to be gaining ground in recent years that a padlocked mouth is the symbol of a new patriotism. That theory is merely an American version of the totalitarian doctrine that the people's job is just to fight, die, suffer, work obey, and keep their mouths shut. . . . —Sen. H. Styles Bridges.

VIVISECTION

By George Starr White, M. D.

BLOT ON CIVILIZATION

Vivisection is a blot upon civilization and human progress.

Nothing of value can be learned by mutilating any animal or human. A suffering animal never can have normal, natural reactions.

Geo. Starr White

No animal can have the same reactions as a human. That is why human vivisection is being practiced in places "outsiders" could not suspect. Young men and women are being taught to witness animal torture without flinching. It is said to be done in the "holy name of science".

I know there is a morbid mental condition back of all this vivisection—Sadism.

Cutting into living animals should be forbidden in our public schools, as well as in all places of learning. Teach kindness to animals. It is the first step toward kindess to humans.

I believe that every vivisector is a pervert—has perverted tendencies that he keeps secret. There are very many various kinds of perverts about us all the time. They only need a spark to kindle the trash that is in them to create a great conflagration.

The torture of animals is the first step in torturing of humans. Helpless humans—children, the aged and weak—are next in order—then these monsters, walking about as humans, try to have laws enacted so they can mutilate and torture any person they choose.

You say "it can't be possible?" Yes it is, and such laws are only prevented by the diligent labors of a few faithful workers, working for humanity, rather than working for organized laboratory secrecy.

All serum and vaccine laboratories are Propaganda Factories and help keep "germ fear" before the eyes of the public.

Before you consider the broadcasted lies regarding the "danger of germs" think of paper money! Is that sterilized before it is handed to you? Can anything you ever touch be more "covered with germs" than paper money? Can you imagine a "germ scare-monger" refusing to take paper money until it is baked and made "safe to handle?"

Vivisection and "Food Values"— Just now the "value" of foods is ascertained in the great laboratories, by experimental feeding of various animals, notably, white rats and white mice. Certain foods are fed to these "scientifically-bred" rats and mice and their condition watched from day to day. Many of these helpless white rats and mice are cut up alive to see what the foods have done to their various organs.

Just what the digestion of rats has to do with the digestion of humans, I would like some ratman to explain. Rats and mice are used in the laboratories, because the public has a horror of rats and mice, and does not "feel sorry" for the unfortunate animals, when they are made to suffer; but don't be deceived, other animals are used—thousands of dogs, cats, monkeys; and even horses and goats, all for the sake of satisfying the perverted desire of laboratory sharps to make animals suffer and to cut and mutilate them.

Remember that no animal, or human, has the same reaction when in pain, or when under an anesthetic, as when normal, consequently all the "reactions" gotten by ripping open and mutilating animals is of no posible benefit to any one.

While visiting one of the largest New York laboratories where vivisection is carried on, I saw enough to make any human person shrink and hide his face in shame. I called attention of the director to the torturing that was going on by various doctors present, and I was then and there held up to ridicule. Dogs were strapped to their stretchers and opened up without any anesthetic whatever. If honest physicians and the public in general knew how ruthlessly animals are tortured in these institutions, they would rise in holy horror and crush it.

Bias Must Cease, Says FEPC Official

NEW YORK— A tendency to deny persons employment because of their religion is mounting, said Edward Lawson, regional director of the president's fair employment practice committee.

Lawson, speaking at a symposium under auspices of the Jewish forum association and the National Conference of Christians and Jews, said this trend "has got to be halted, and the FEPC is the agency charged with that responsibility."

Jews, Negroes, and all other minority groups must work together for elimination of discriminatory practices in industry, said Lawson.

FEDERAL CITY

ABOLISH THE VETO

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON, February 29— In the American Constitutional convention at Philadelphia in 17787 it was at first agreed that there should be no veto power for the President. But the presence of General Washington, a paragon of great men, as presiding officer and the man they all expected to see named as our first President, caused the delegates to "let down their guard" and insert the veto clause.

Moreover, the king of England had the veto power, and the American leaders thought of it as a natural check against hasty legislation.

George the Third was the last king of England to use the veto; it has not been used there in 175 years, although technically the king still has the veto power. Prime Ministers have no such power.

Only the House of Lords have a sort of veto; they can hold up any bill pased by the Commons for two years. The presidents of France, Switzerland and Finland, the world's best republics next to the United States, have no veto power.

George Washington used the veto only twice in his eight years as chief executive. Jefferson and several other Presidents never used it at all.

F. D. Roosevelt has broken all records with his vetoes, totalling over 600 times. He has been overridden seven times.

By Constitutional amendment it should be provided that the veto may be overridden by a simple majority of both Houses; or better, simply abolished.

* * *

UNWRITTEN LAW— The Democratic National Platform of 1896, passed overwhelmingly at the Democratic convention in Chicago, had the following stirring and patriotic words:

"We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by custom and usage of a hundred years and sanctioned by the examples of the greatest and wisest of those who founded and maintained our government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the presidential office."

There were statesmen in those days, during the first hundred years of our Republic's history. They believed in a "government of laws and not of men". They believed in a government by statute and Constitution, not by executive fiat and decree—the universal mechanism of despotism.

They knew, as did Washington, Jefferson and Jackson, that the longer an Adminstration stays in power, with ONE HEAD, the more power it accumulates in its tentacles—until in time it strangles the liberty of the people. History confirms this truth over and over again.

* * *

CONGRESSMAN SABATH of Illinois is a foreigner by birth and thought, is the oldest member of Congress in both age and service, is one of the ablest and most faithful of New Deal Socialist stooges. If he has ever shown the slightest independence of New Deal influence, the writer has no knowledge of it.

The veteran Congressman arose in the House the other day and warned his colleague, Mr. Rankin of Mississippi, that if he did not cease defending himself from the continuous assaults of one Walter Winchell, he would be compelled to endeavor to stop it.

Both the aged Sabath and the middle-aged Winchell are supposed to be descended from the same part of Russia, of the same nationality and faith. Both are radical Newdealers. Both worship FDR as a sort of god. So the sympathy between the two is even more than a blood relationship.

On February 24, Winchell devoted nearly all of his column in 200 of the most powerful newspapers, coast to coast, to Mr. Sabath's "orchid" and threat.

Moreover, W. W. speaks over the Blue Network to possibly 40 million listeners every Sunday night, and it is a rare occasion when he does not attack Congress, or some Congressman, and especially Mr. Rankin.

Congressman Sabath perhaps does not realize the disparity between the voices of Winchell and Rankin. A poor Congressman or Senator reaches not over 10,000 circulation when he inserts his remarks in the "Congressional Record". Few newspapers copy from the "Record".

In the New York "Daily Mirror" alone, "Walter, the Russian" reaches nearly one million subscribers. He has over 800 other newspaper outlets.

He is the greatest master of libel and slander in American history, and of course not all subscribers read his ravings.

The late editor Arthur Brisbane, greatest columnist of all time, said: "Hearst hasn't enough money to make me read him" (Winchell).

* * *

KOSCIUSKO—one of the world's great, and a Polish patriot who came to America to help Washington and our ancestors gain their independence—said, "RUSSIA IS THE ROCK AGAINST WHICH THE SIGH FOR FREEDOM BREAKS".

How history repeats itself. Russia has never had genuine freedom, such as the Anglo-Saxons had for so long.

Kosciusko said something against Russian despotism. There was freedom of speech, then, here in America.

Say something against Russia today, and have the whole Newdeal "palace guard" on your trail!

* * *

THE WORM FINALLY TURNED! Thank God! At long last, the American Congress, the real "government", the only expression which the people can give to their collective will, has finally "revolted". In America the people were once "the king", the sovereign, the ruler, until Franklin the First came along.

The new "king" turned the old king (the Congress) into a worm, and for years and years the worm forgot that it had ever been a king—and crawled and fawned and grovelled at the feet of the self-appointed "one-man-government". Even the morons, who were the main support of the "Newdeal Order", spoke disparagingly of the once-noble Congress.

Brainier Americans looked sadly across the water to "Mother England", from whose despotism our ancestors revolted, and we admired the land where the "real government" has come to be the Parliament.

Why is Parliament the "real government" of Britain?

Because (the legislature) controls all three branches of government.

From its own membership it selects the Prime Minister, as its chief executive; the cabinet members are selected from Parliament, whose members represent the brains of the nation. The executives are directly responsible to the Parliament, and removable at its will.

The upper branch of Parliament, the House of Lords, representing the landowners of the country, is also the Supreme Court of Appeals.

For twelve years the Continental Congress alone ruled the United States Federal government. Hamilton said that, in adopting the Constitution, the legislative department did not surrender any of its real powers.

The Constitution's greatest service was in creating a servant of the Congress—a new department, the Executive, to enforce the laws and will of the people, expressed through their Congress, and a Judiciary, to try the federal cases and interpret the Constitution.

The Constitution gives to the Executive no such powers as he, it or they have assumed during the Roosevelt Administration. Much of the Administration's activities have been pure usurpation.

It is the method, said Washington, by which every free government has been destroyed, by which every republic died.

Every independent commentator in the nation has approved the Congress "revolt".

Only the Bolshevik press, such as New York's freak "PM", has aproved the executive's usurpation. "PM" devoted nine pages to what it used its entire front page to call "The Revolt in Congress".

Thank God for such men as Barkley and Doughton, who put country above party, in this grave hour of our country's travail!

"They Can't Do That"

WASHINGTON— Those who pooh-poohed the Communist Manifesto program of the New Deal, outlined and compared in my book THE ROOSEVELT RED RECORD AND ITS BACKGROUND (1936) which is now being caried out; those who pooh-poohed warnings of communistic regimentation, American women in army uniform as in Russia, rationing (all unnecessary in any war in U. S. history); those who denied F. D. R. would ever urge, as he does, the universal slave draft of all citizens, including women, while admitting it unnnecessary to win the war; those who echoed New Deal assertions that the Lend-Lease Bill was purely a "Peace", and "all-aid-to-Britain-short-of-war", not a War-Dictatorship bill — these will laugh and say, "O, they can't do THAT"!

I recall a picture showing Lenin in an obscure little attic in exile thumping out to a few wild confederates his Russian Revolution order, "THE HOUR HAS STRUCK!" — struck for a plot enslaving and butchering millions under Red dictatorship sloganed as a "BREAD, PEACE AND LAND" program. Now Vice-President Wallace is preaching the doctrine of our being Sovietized by consent, otherwise by violence, the identical doctrine of Felix Frankfurter's bosom pal and fellow traveler, Harold Laski of England (See Chgo. Trib., 2-21-44). Laski is the author of a eulogistic introduction to Karl Marx's COMMUNIST MANIFESTO (Socialist Party's League for Industrial Democracy edition, U. S. A.).

As in Lenin's garret, American history may soon be made in that obscure little Washington, D. C. courtroom. In it I sat on the same hard side chairs, day after day, during three 1943 sessions on the second indictment (the first not being argued) and, recently, all day for three days, Feb. 7-8-9, hearing legal arguments on the third "Nazi conspiracy" indictment — "Nazi" meaning anything anti-Communist or anti-New Deal.

THE JUDGE

The little courtroom has only three benches on one side, four on the other, largely deserted, some chairs for an apathetic press and a row of thin, pale, largely penniless prisoner-defendants who sit, guarded by bailiffs, facing the Judge who is also scheduled to conduct the trial. He is one Edward C. Eicher, a white-haired fanatically enthusiastic New Dealer who first became a Judge, of any kind, when abruptly elevated two years ago by F. D. R. to be Chief Justice of the D. C. courts.

Admitted to the bar in in 1906, Eicher practiced in Washington, Iowa, a town of 5,227 souls, with an interval as assistant registrar 1907-9 at the very Red University of Chicago, until he went into Congress from Iowa on the New Deal ticket 1933-38. He did not run for re-election in 1938 but resigned at noon, December 2, 1938, to be sworn in as F. D. R. appointee to the Securities and Exchange Commission. On August 23, 1938, F. D. R. had proposed to reward Eicher by an S. E. C. appointment—a set-up headed by Frankfurter proteges James M. Landis, who was succeeded as chairman by the Red Jew Jerome Frank, another Frankfurter "Hot Dog Boy". April 9, 1941, Eicher succeeded Jerome Frank as chairman of the S. E. C., Jerome Frank being made a Federal Judge by F. D. R. In January 1942 Eicher was made Chief Justice of the D. C. courts by F. D. R.

F. D. R.'s JUDGES :

To quote Cong. Miller (R., Mo.): "Franklin the Third has established the appalling precedent of naming seven out of the nine members of the present Supreme Court, 1,113 of the 1,193 present federal district judges, and 37 of 54 now in the Circuit Courts of Appeal." (Chgo. Trib. 2-19-44).

While Eicher served on the S. E. C. from 1938-42, Oetje John Rogge, Harvard "Hot Dog Boy" who now lists himself as "Editor Harvard Law Review" and who "voted the Socialist ticket in 1932" (Chgo. Trib., 5-20-39), was "Special" and "General Counsel" for the same S. E. C. 1937-9. Now Rogge is Special "Persecutor" for the Department of "Injustice" for the phoney "Nazi conspiracy" trial, Eicher being selected by the Department of "Injustice" as presiding Judge.

Gov. D. P. Boondoggling on a Global Basis

The Reader's Digest of August 1943, had review excerpts from "Men in Motion" by Henry J. Taylor. It exposes the waste and folly of boondogling on a global basis. No good is coming out of it except ill will against the U. S. A. and added billions from Taxpayers' contributions.

The sum and substance is that Americans spend money by the barrel while the natives have no means of living up to such a standard. It results in envy and dissatisfaction.
